

For people who do not wish to receive unsolicited calls, the DO NOT CALL listing is a great idea. I can't understand solicitors who feel they can force their way into the privacy of our homes. It should be up to the consumer who is only trying to protect him(her)self. There are plenty of other avenues to advertise